Shrock is Level 2 certified in endurance, jumps, and sprints/hurdles, while having earned Level 3 certification in training theory. Shrock also presents internationally on subjects relating to sport management and coaching, and will serve as the USATF Men's Endurance coach at the 2012 World Indoor Championships in Istanbul.

Level 1 Information:

The USATF Coaching Education Level 1 program is intended as a starting point for coaches. One of the objectives of the Level 1 program is to put all coaches on common ground (i.e., speaking the same language). The Level 1 program covers all events by emphasizing fundamentals, rules, safety/risk management, and instruction techniques. Level 1 certification prepares an individual to coach at the junior high school, high school, club, and collegiate level.

Requirements:

- Be at least 18 years of age
- Attend a Level 1 coaching education school
- Pass an exam

Benefits:

- Recognition of completing USATF Level 1 Course
- Curriculum text covering sport science and individual events
- Skills and knowledge to coach athletes at the youth-collegiate division level
- Eligibility for CEU's (continuing education units) at an additional fee
- Eligibility to attend a Level 2 School

About Level 1 School:

Level 1 Schools are a two day course where 21 hours are spent on track & field events and related sport science. The course consists of classroom instruction as well as hands-on training.

Attendance at all sessions is required.

After the school, participants must complete an online exam that covers event-related and sport science subjects.

Upon passing the exam and fulfilling the other requirements (see above), participants will be issued a Level 1 Certificate of Completion.
